1.	What is the projected size of the inmate population looking to be housed i.e. 250, 500, 1000, or more?		GDC does not have a total estimated number of offenders that GDC is projecting to house in modular correctional buildings at this time. GDC's intent with any established agency contract for modular correctional buildings would be for it to be an open contract that allows GDC to purchase buildings as needed and place them at existing GDC facilities as supplemental space. GDC does not intend to house more than 130 offenders in a single modular correctional housing building.
